

FROM THE FEATURE
Wood & Fire

Tips and tricks

for a nice dinner in a cosy atmosphere

from Weddign blogger Ellen, »Frieda Therés«

INVITING TABLES

---

If you have invited guests an inviting and appealing table decorated to suit the occasion is a must. It's not just a beautiful eye catcher but a sign of respect towards the guest and the occasion you are enjoying together.

WATER FROM GLASS BOTTLES

---

Glass is a sign of style, as well as a flair for quality and beauty. Fresh mineral water from (unopened) glass bottles is a perfect accompaniment to any kind of dinner and with any wine. Bottles on the table also mean guests can help themselves as needed. Dedicated water glasses are therefore also an essential.

MENU CARDS

---

For a festive touch or special occasions like Christmas or birthdays menu cards are a great way to wow your guests. They will also appreciate the preview of the treats to come. Individual menus are a popular souvenir to take home after great night you will want to remember.

FROM THE FEATURE
Wood & Fire

Tips and tricks

for a nice dinner in a cosy atmosphere

from Weddign blogger Ellen, »Frieda Therés«

BLUMEN

---

Nothing livens up your table like fresh flowers. They can do magic! And they are the perfect way to accentuate your decorative choices. Make sure not to opt for tall stems so as not to block anyone's view of their opposite

My tip: use several small vases or other glass vessels and spread your flowers all around the table.

TABLE LINEN

---

Whether or not to opt for a table cloth is a personal choice and depends on the occasion. Fresh white linen gives your table an elegant look while a bare wooden surface creates a warmer atmosphere. So you will have to search your own style heart to make this decision. Fabric napkins, however, are non-negotiable. They have a far superior feel to paper ones and you should definitely treat yourself and your guests to this upgrade.

FROM THE FEATURE
Wood & Fire

Tips and tricks

for a nice dinner in a cosy atmosphere

from Weddign blogger Ellen, »Frieda Therés«

SMALL STARTERS

---

Olives, bread, antipasti or even figs and grapes – small appetizers deliciously arranged will not only quicken our guests' appetite but also make them feel welcome.

CANDLES AND APPROPRIATE LIGHTING

---

No table or proper dinner without candles. They add warmth and coziness to your setting and make for excellent decoration. Try playing with opposites and combines taper candles in stick with tea lights.